

Matthew McLean, M.D.

Comprehensive Diagnostic Center is excited to announce that we are now scheduling appointments with Dr. Matthew McLean, a board-certified orthopaedic surgeon specializing in general orthopaedics and sports medicine. Dr. McLean graduated with Distinction from Cornell University, earning his B.A. in Biological Sciences, before receiving his M.D. from Washington University School of Medicine, consistently ranked among the top medical schools by U.S. News & World Report. He completed his orthopaedic surgery residency at UMDNJ Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and pursued fellowship training in sports medicine at Harvard University/Massachusetts General Hospital, where he served as an assistant team physician for the New England Patriots and Boston Bruins. Dr. McLean treats a wide range of sports medicine injuries as well as general orthopaedic conditions, with special expertise in arthroscopic knee surgery and anterior cruciate ligament reconstruction. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons and receives referrals from various physicians, ensuring comprehensive care for his patients. We are thrilled to have Dr. McLean join our team and look forward to the exceptional care he will provide!

Please call CDC to schedule with Dr. McLean or any of our other providers! If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact our home office at 1-800-494-0321 or visit our web site at:

 All physicians utilized by CDC have excellent track records in providing quality reports, depositions and testimony resulting in value-added outcomes

CDC has over 35 years of experience as a national coordinator of Independent Medical Examinations. IMEs are effective tools for clarification of treatment needs, causality issues, work capabilities, establishing Maximum Medical Improvement (MMI), determining future claims exposure, setting reserves, establishing permanency and moving the claim toward resolution. These issues may be addressed in exams for Workers Comp, Auto Liability, General Liability, Short and Long-Term Disability, Fitness for Duty and FMLA. CDC provides IMEs for both plaintiff and defense cases.
